A Successful Bike Clinic

By Scott Lewis

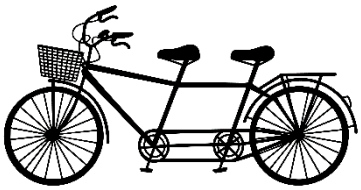

CJCA's inaugural bike clinic conducted in early April consisted of three bike technicians, 35 Cabin Johners and their bikes, 27 bicycles for donation, lots of how-tos on bike maintenance, and about two dozen doughnuts. The day began with lessons on fixing a flat tire, adjusting brake and gear cables, and performing other maintenance. Then, individuals who had registered for the free repair sessions had 15 minutes to work on their bikes one-on-one with a bike technician.

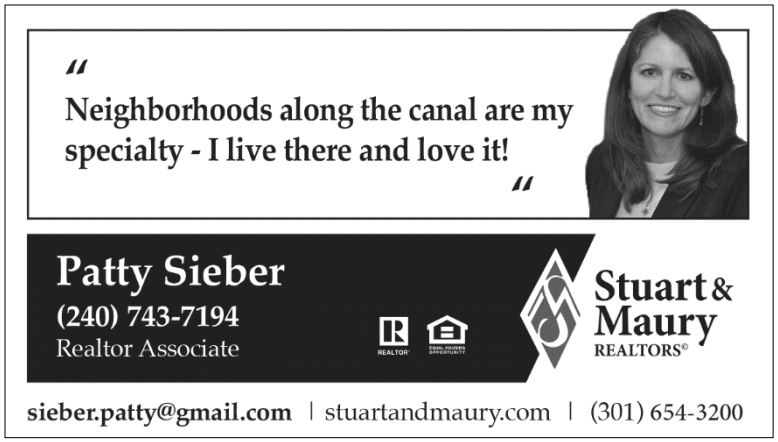

There was much maintenance performed during those 24 sessions and yet some bikes were deemed in need of additional work back at the bike store. Most importantly, we were pleased to collect and donate 27 bikes to Bikes for the World. A big thanks to Contes Bikes for running the event and to all those who attended. See you at next spring's clinic!

WHERE IS MY (DONATED) BIKE NOW??

By Scott Lewis

People who donated their unused bikes during the recent CJCA Bike Clinic may wonder about the fate of their donations. Read on to find out, but first, Bikes for the World (https://bikesfortheworld.org/) wishes to thank everyone who contributed bikes and related equipment. The organization was pleased with both the quantity and quality of our donations.

The first stop after collection in Cabin John is Baltimore, where the bikes–in their original condition–are loaded into a shipping container along with other recent donations.

Next, the bike-filled container is loaded onto a ship sailing to Costa Rica. There, all the bikes and equipment are divided up and distributed among five bike repair operations across the country. Each site either completes repairs on the bikes to get them in good working order or deconstructs unsalvageable bikes and sells the parts. This creates meaningful employment and also funds a micro-loan program. Bikes for the World is one of the largest bike donation and distribution philanthropies in the world. There is an emphasis on 100% reuse so as not to burden the landfills in Costa Rica. Thanks to all contributors for their generous donations!

CABIN JOHN IN THE NEWS

Cabin John was featured in the March/April issue of Bethesda Magazine. Writer Carolyn Weber called CJ a "nature lover's dream." The article described our town's amenities, traditions, and housing. You can read all about our "riverside retreat" online at https://www.moco360.media/march-april-2024-digital-edition/ .

Poems for Passersby

presented by Meredith Griggs

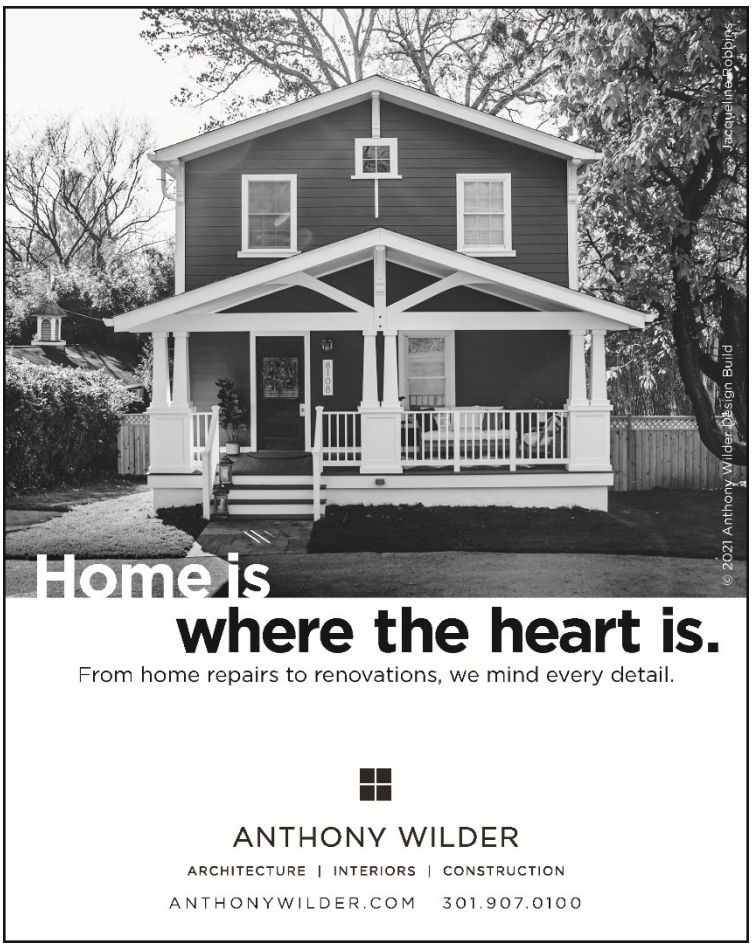

Today

By Billy Collins, former Poet Laureate of the United States

If ever there were a spring day so perfect,
so uplifted by a warm intermittent breeze
that it made you want to throw open all the windows in the house and unlatch the door to the canary's cage,
indeed, rip the little door from its jamb,
a day when the cool brick paths
and the garden bursting with peonies seemed so etched in sunlight
that you felt like taking a hammer to the glass paperweight
on the living room end table,
releasing the inhabitants
from their snow-covered cottage
so they could walk out,
holding hands and squinting
into this larger dome of blue and white,
well, today is just that kind of day.

Peter Daniel of Tomlinson Terrace stops by Poems for Passerby on upper 78th Street while out for an early spring walk with his family and dogs Zoey and Foxy. April was National Poetry Month.

CJCA's 2024 Spring Egg Hunt

Some of the cutest young CJ'ers and their families enjoyed a beautiful sunny day at the annual egg hunt, March 17, 2024, on the Clara Barton field. This cohort of egg hunters may have been the fastest yet — over 800 eggs were scooped up in about 6 ½ minutes! Huge thanks to Kelly Banuls and Kathleen Leverenz who organized and ran the event.

Mulching Party

By Susan Roberts

Many thanks to all the Cabin John residents who showed up on Saturday, April 27 to help spread mulch along MacArthur Boulevard. This year's volunteers in alphabetical order were: Dan Berman, Sarah Cahill, Elisa De Angelis, Meredith Griggs, Marcy Harrison, Scott Hoffman, Elaine Hornauer, Jerry Hornauer, Delia Jennings, Heidi Lewis, Scott Lewis, Cathie Nelsen, Derek Price, Harrison Price, Susan Roberts, and Bev Sullivan. We couldn't have done it without every one of you!

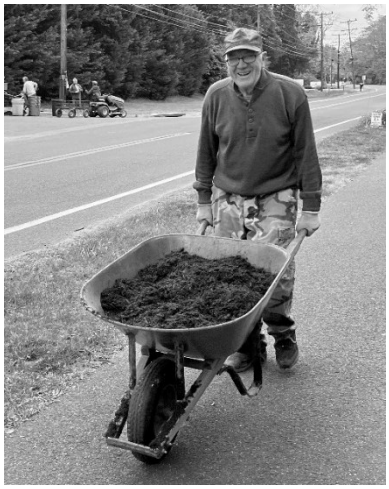

We missed the wonderful volunteers from last year but appreciated the new volunteers from this year.

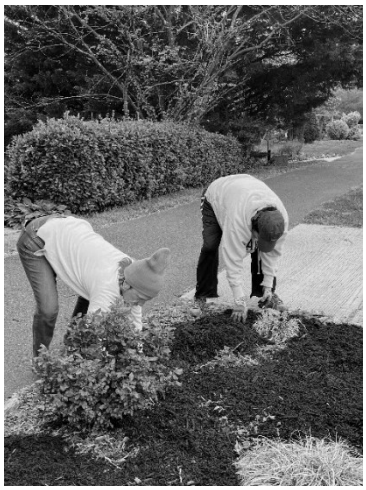

Special thanks to Scott Hoffman, who provides the truck and trailer to pick up the mulch. He also provides the mower and trailer to deliver the mulch to each location. The four yards of mulch we use every year would be roughly the equivalent of 54 two-cubic foot bags! We couldn't do the job without Scott!

The project took over three hours this year. Fortunately, it was a very cool spring day with only a few drops of rain, a lot better than sunny and hot! We are always looking for new volunteers to maintain the gardens on our main street. If you might be interested in gardening or in coordinating the beautification project please contact susanroberts487@gmail.com.

We look forward to celebrating all CJ graduates!

CJCA News

By Scott Lewis

The April CJCA meeting was focused entirely on the construction at First Agape/Gibson Grove and Scotland AME Zion Churches on Seven Locks (see article from Charlotte Leighton). See pg. 12 for more on the churches' preservation efforts.

Our next meeting–and the last until the fall–will be held on Wednesday, May 22 at 7:30 pm, at the Clara Barton Neighborhood Recreation Center (CBNRC). We will have a discussion on CJCA history and election of officers for the 2024-2025 program year. Feel free to join in person or on https://meet.google.com/rqp-dudh-tss.

2024-2025 CJCA Calendar Preview

By Scott Lewis

CJCA will finalize and print the calendar for the next program year in the June newsletter. We intend to hold our regular events, starting with the Fourth of July parade, the Crab Feast, the Turkey Trot, the Holiday Party, Trivia Night, and the Spring Egg Hunt. In addition, we are planning a Cabin John Day Out to Minnie's Island with the Minnie's Island Community Conservancy on June 22, a Cabin John Home Tour next spring, and another bike clinic, also next spring. We are particularly excited about the Cabin John Home Tour as many people have expressed interest and we last held one about a decade ago.

Topics already in development for our regular monthly CJCA meetings include a presentation on ballot initiatives this election cycle at the October meeting. These initiatives can often be confusing so CJCA will present them objectively, relying on local CJers who understand each of these initiatives (absolutely no information will be presented on individual candidates). A future meeting will feature an ornithologist with a presentation on local birds. We'll also have three blood drives with incentives for first time donors!

We are always looking for your ideas regarding how CJCA can meet its chartered purpose to "(1) stimulate civic interest of a non-partisan and non-sectarian nature, (2) represent the interests of its citizens before appropriate agencies, and (3) promote the general welfare of Cabin John and adjacent areas in Montgomery County, Maryland" so feel free to make suggestions by emailing cjcapresidents@gmail.com.

IMPRESSIONS OF THE ECLIPSE

On April 8, 2024 Cabin John, and most of the rest of the United States, was treated to an eclipse, the likes of which we won't see again until 2044.

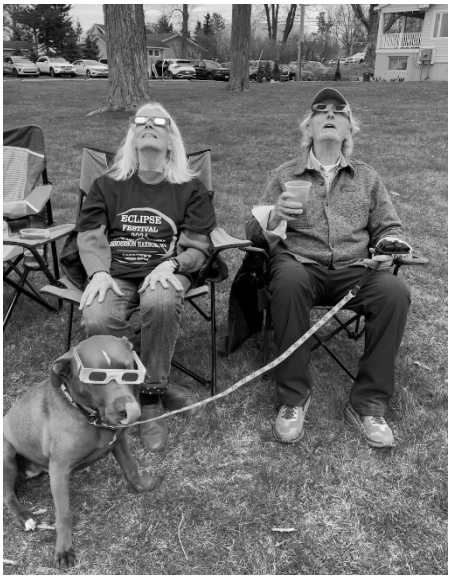

We asked the community for impressions of the event and you did not disappoint! We received many photos and were forced to select just a few to reproduce here. Thanks so much to everyone who contributed images.

Your credit score, which is commonly referred to as your FICO score, is based on five factors:

— payment history
— amount owed
— new credit
— length of credit history
— credit mix

Your record of on-time payments and the amount of credit you've used are the two top factors.

All five are taken into account in the calculation of the overall score, which can range from 300 to 850.

The Old Conduit

By Rachel Donnan

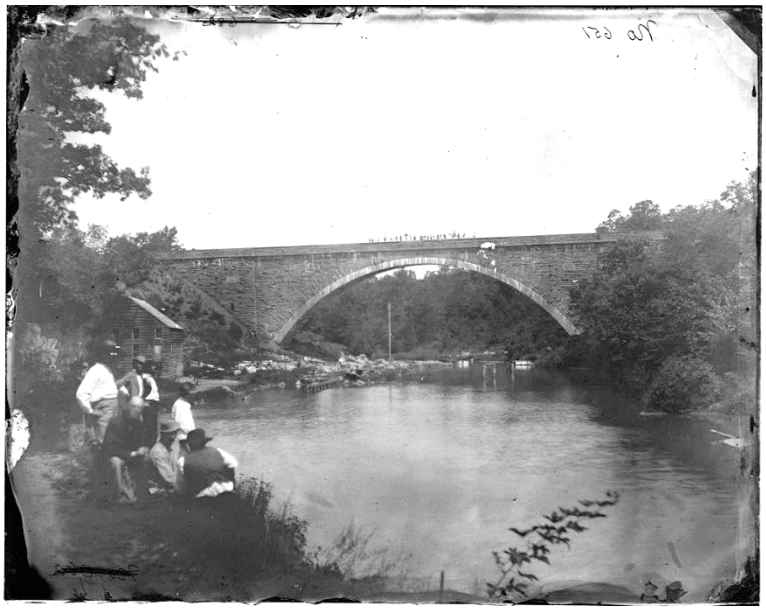

While driving by the pop-up construction site for the "Old Conduit Repairs" across the bridge on my morning school run, I was reminded of some fascinating historical photos of the Washington Aqueduct. During daily traversing, it's easy to forget that the Union Arch Bridge (the Cabin John Bridge) is on the National Register of Historic Places, a magnificent feat of engineering that was built to carry the Washington Aqueduct across the steep ravine and over Cabin John Creek.

MacArthur Boulevard, previously known as Conduit Road, was never meant to be a busy thoroughfare but rather a service road for accessing and maintaining the massive underground pipe that lies beneath it.

Begun in 1857 by the U.S Army Corps of Engineers under chief engineer Lieutenant Montgomery C. Meigs, the Washington Aqueduct was designed to carry clean drinking water to Washington, D.C. The system was based upon the New York and Boston aqueducts completed the previous decade.

In order to carry the aqueduct across Cabin John Creek, Lieutenant Meigs designed the Union Arch Bridge. Completed in 1862, the Cabin John Bridge was the longest single span stone arch bridge in the world until 1903. Made in part with distinctive red Seneca stone, the bridge is 450 feet long with an arch span of 220 feet and was one of Meigs's crowning achievements. His name is engraved in many locations along the aqueduct, including several places on the bridge.

Until 1923, the Old Conduit was the sole source of water for the Washington Aqueduct system. In the early 1920s, due to a growing city and higher demand for water, the Army Corps expanded the system and constructed a second conduit that runs parallel to the old one. This conduit's centerline runs below the pedestrian/bike path along MacArthur Boulevard.

In March 2022, an inspection of the Old Conduit revealed compromises to its structural integrity caused by violations of vehicle weight restrictions on the roadway. Repairs to the Washington Aqueduct system, in operation for an astonishing 160 years, will continue through the end of the year.

Reviving Heritage, Rebuilding Hope

Preservation of Two Historic African American Churches on Seven Locks

By Charlotte Troup Leighton

We had an enthusiastic turnout for CJCA's April community meeting and panel discussion, with at least 30 in-person attendees and our largest online audience since some of our pandemic Zoom meetings. The program highlighted the impressive restoration efforts at the Scotland A.M.E. Zion Church on Seven Locks Road near Tuckerman Lane and the First Agape A.M.E. Zion Church at Gibson Grove, which is just outside of Cabin John on Seven Locks and the Beltway underpass. These historic churches are part of Montgomery County's Master Plan for Historic Preservation.

Design renderings for the First Agape A.M.E. Zion Church, and the restoration plan for the century-old Scotland A.M.E. Zion Church.

Moderating the discussion was Rebeccah Ballo, Historic Preservation Supervisor for the Montgomery County Planning Department, who manages the work of the county's Historic Preservation Commission in overseeing the preservation and protection of historic districts and sites within the county. Ms. Ballo spoke about the county's role in the work to preserve these two churches and 455 other Master Plan historic sites in the county.

We welcomed Rev. Dr. Evalina Huggins, presiding elder of the Baltimore District of A.M.E. Zion churches, representing the historic Scotland A.M.E. Zion Church, and the church's current pastor. Rev. Dr. Huggins provides supervisory oversight to 19 Baltimore District churches around the Beltway, including leadership to four historic houses of worship currently undertaking construction projects—Scotland and First Agape among them.

Scotland A.M.E. Zion Church was built by hand by Black congregants and opened in 1924. The original wood-frame structure, one of the last of its kind in the region, was nearly destroyed by floods and intense storms over the last five years. We were all amazed as Rev. Dr. Huggins shared photos of the church structure being lifted off the ground and set down on its new waterproof foundation. Rev. Dr. Huggins stressed that the county's commitment to this project and restorative justice has been crucial to righting wrongs of the early 1960s for the Scotland community.

Rev. Edgar S. Bankhead, Sr., the pastor of First Agape A.M.E. Zion Church at Gibson Grove, was appointed to First Agape in 1996. Rev. Bankhead shared that the original Gibson Grove Church was built in 1898 on land donated by former slave Sarah Gibson, the founder of the once vibrant African American community of Gibson Grove (also known as No. 10) in Cabin John. Rev. Bankhead also spoke about the devastating fire on Ash Wednesday 2004 that put an abrupt end to the in-progress renovation. Stormwater erosion, a felled tree, the close proximity of the Beltway, and other challenges have long thwarted rebuilding of this historic treasure.

A number of Gibson Grove descendants currently reside in Cabin John, including members of the White family, whose ancestors planned the community's first Crab Feast, a fundraiser for the Cabin John Home Study group, in 1964. After eight years of Crab Feasts put on entirely by the Black community, the CJCA was asked to help organize the event, with the responsibilities and proceeds distributed to various causes benefitting the Cabin John community. The Crab Feast has now been a beloved tradition for nearly 60 years.

The construction of I-495 in the early 1960s split the Gibson Grove community in two and took a significant amount of land from area landowners, impacting the Morningstar Moses Cemetery and Hall, and Gibson Grove Church properties. Poor stormwater management for the highway project resulted in decades of runoff impacts at both sites—creating significant challenges to current preservation efforts.

Rev. Bankhead shared photos, renderings, and updates regarding the stabilization work at the First Agape site. This urgent work was funded by a legislative bond bill urgent work was funded by a legislative bond bill sponsored by our District 16 Maryland State Delegation following Delegate Sara Love and then Senator Susan Lee's attendance at a Fall 2020 Morningstar Moses Cemetery and Hall site tour hosted by Friends of Moses Hall. The timing of the planned reconstruction and expansion of the First Agape A.M.E. Zion Church building is dependent on the state's expansion of I-495, which will include church property impacts mitigated by the state's construction of new stormwater management infrastructure, a new church parking lot in conjunction with the replacement of the Seven Locks Beltway overpass, and a new sidewalk from the church to the entrance of the Morningstar Moses Cemetery and Hall site. First Agape is also receiving archaeological and technical support from the Maryland Department of Transportation related to the 2022 exhumation of an unidentified grave at the site.

Wood salvaged from trees removed from the property will be used in the construction of a new First Agape Church sanctuary that incorporates the historic Gibson Grove Church facade. The expanded building will include a new fellowship hall with an arts and STEM center. First Agape A.M.E. Zion Church has launched a fundraising campaign for the planned renovation.
